

Let It Rain

low A

Tune: 'Let It Snow'; 1.0 min.

Lyrics: The Raging Grannies ... and Their Friends of Westchester County NY

Oh, the climate is swiftly warming—
Inconvenient and so boring!
But we're singing a glad refrain—
Let it rain, let it rain, let it rain!

Now we watch the glaciers shrinking,
While the polar bears are sinking,
And it's 80 degrees in Maine—
Let it rain, let it rain, let it rain!

When it finally gets too hot,
The tsunamis will sweep us away.
If you'd rather believe they won't,
Go check with the EPA!

Though the sea may be dead next season,
And the air's not fit for breathing,
In my Hummer, I can't complain—
Let it rain, let it rain, let it rain!

[SLOW] Let it rain, let it rain, let it rain!
