

Medicare

low G

*Tune: 'Yesterday'; 2.25 min.
Lyrics: Ming Chen*

Medicare doesn't cover all my aches and pains.
Still my supplemental's quite a strain.
Oh, I still need my Medicare.
Medicaid: it's a safety net for working poor.
Cut it back and show them to the door.
Society is gonna pay.

CHORUS:

I said, "Let's try change." They said "No." They wouldn't play.
I feel something's wrong, how I long for single pa-a-ayer.

Yesterday nurses had the time to really care.
Now they haven't got the time to spare.
Oh, I believe in yesterday.
Yesterday, doctors ordered needed pills and tests.
Now insurance bureaucrats know best.
There's got to be a better way.

CHORUS:

I said, "Let's try change." They said "No." They wouldn't play.
I feel something's wrong, how I long for single pa-a-ayer.

Managed care lets big business make a lot of dough.
Single payer is the way to go!
We can improve on yesterday.
Yesterday, health care was a simpler game to play.
Now Congress wants to take away
My health care plan from yesterday.
